

REFIT & REPAIR SERVICES

Like any lifecycle, owning a yacht is a continuum of change, an evolution that reflects your life and your lifestyle. These changes also impact how your yacht meets your needs over time. And since your captain and crew monitor the operation and performance of your yacht, we consult with them on refits and repairs.

REFITTING

Refitting reflects changes in how you see your vessel continuing to meet your needs. A refit may be an alternative to building a new yacht, or it may be a significant renovation that now fits and reflects your current needs.

REPAIRS

While the best engineering and equipment – and the most rigorous maintenance program – will minimize the need for repairs and downtime, repairs are a fact of yacht ownership. How they are negotiated and performed are critical to productive and enjoyable time aboard.

SCOPE OF SERVICES

Whether it's routine maintenance, evaluating and negotiating potentially costly repairs or scoping out and managing a major refit, you can depend on IMA Yachts to prudently advise and represent you, based on your changing requirements and the necessities of yacht operation.
